HOW TO PLAY IN 5 MINUTES

Endless Skies is a 4X board game (explore, expand, exploit, exterminate) with worker placement, based on the open-source video game Endless Sky. Two to eight players command asymmetric factions across a hex-tile galaxy, managing fleets of ships, placing workers in ship rooms and space ports, and completing contracts for victory points.

★ READ THIS FIRST — THE CORE LOOP

- 1. Place diplomats. In initiative order, place diplomat meeples in space port rooms to gain resources, buy ships, trade, or trigger special actions.
- 2. Activate crew. Move rookie and legend meeples to ship rooms — Bridge, Engine Room, Battlestations, or Storage Bay — to pilot, fight, repair, or upgrade your fleet.
- 3. Resolve events. Move asteroids and wormholes, resolve conflicts between factions, check for destroyed ships, and refresh for the next round.
- 4. Complete contracts. Score victory points by fulfilling public contracts (visible to all) and private missions (secret objectives). First to trigger the endgame condition forces a final scoring round.

BASED ON

Endless Sky is an open-source space exploration video game (github.com/endless-sky/endless-sky) with public domain imagery. Endless Skies adapts its universe, factions, and ship designs into a tabletop format.

SYSTEM TILES

The galaxy is built from 91 hex system tiles (drawn from 113 total) arranged by faction regions. Each tile contains:

- ♦ System name and region
- ♦ Faction affiliation
- ♦ Events (triggered on entry or by card)
- ♦ Planets with habitats
- ♦ Population
- ♦ Commodities produced
- ♦ Wormhole connections (types C, M, Y, K with range costs)

Tiles are placed during setup according to faction regions — each faction’s home territory is predetermined, with contested border regions placed by mutual agreement or randomly.

SETUP RULES

- ♦ 113 tiles total, 91 placed per game
- ♦ Centre = 9th space port (shared)
- ♦ Each faction: starting system + 10 adjacent tiles (excludes asteroid belt + port)
- ♦ Asteroid belts and space ports unlocked during gameplay, not placed at setup
- ♦ Remaining spaces filled randomly from all non-starting systems + 2 empty space hexes

Choose Your Faction

FACTIONS

There are eight asymmetric factions, each with unique starting credits, technology access, and meeple abilities.

Faction	Region	Starting System	Starting Credits	Tech Access
Republic	Near Earth	Sol	500K	Human
Alphas	Far North	Prime	300K/player	Human + Core
Syndicate	The Core	Markab	2M	Human + Core
Free Worlds	Dirt Belt	Dabih	200K/player	Human + Coalition
Pirates	The Rim	(any)	100K/player	Any (in play)
Remnant	Ember Wastes	Arculus	1M	Remnant + Wanderers
Coalition	Paradise	Talita	1.5M	Coalition + Human
Wanderers	Wanderer Space	Ka'ch'chrai	1M	Remnant + Wanderers

Each faction has unique starting credits that scale differently — some are fixed (Republic: 500K, Syndicate: 2M) while others scale by player count (Alphas: 300K/player, Free Worlds: 200K/player). This creates different strategic pressures at different player counts.

Your Fleet

SHIPS

Ships are grouped into four classes:

SHIP CLASSES

CLASS	MIN CREW	MAX BUNKS	COST RANGE	ROLE
Fighters	1	1–5	0.2–0.5M	Combat, escort
Freighters	1–5	1–10	varies	Cargo hauling
Transports	1–3	1–10	varies	Long-range movement
Warships	3–5	3–10	2–15M	Heavy combat, capital ships

Each ship has an individual Ship Sheet tracking:

- Shields and Hull (black cubes)
- Cargo capacity
- Crew bunks (meeple slots)
- Equipped outfits (from Blueprint cards)

There are 30 playable ship types across 5 technology trees (Human, Core, Coalition, Remnant, Wanderer).

SHIP ROOMS

Each ship has rooms where crew meeples are placed to activate abilities:

ROOM	SLOTS	ABILITIES
Bridge	3	Pilot, Tactical, Transport
Engine Room	3	Pilot, Transport, Repair
Battlestations	4	Tactical, Tactical, Pilot, Repair
Storage Bay	1	Upgrade

Placing a meeple in a room activates that ability for the round. Legends (experienced crew) may have enhanced versions of abilities.

SHIP BOARD LAYOUT

Every ship board has:

- ♦ Shield/Hull tracks (0–9, damage values: 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 50, 40, 30, 20, 10)
- ♦ Bunk slots for crew meeples
- ♦ Cargo slots
- ♦ Turret and Gun mount indicators
- ♦ Storage slot (for outfits/cargo overflow)

Room allocation depends on ship size:

- ♦ Fighters/Transports/Freighters (small): Bridge + Storage Bay only
- ♦ Warships/Freighters (large): Bridge + Engine Room + Battlestations + Storage Bay

SPACE PORT BOARDS

There are 9 space ports, each with 8 rooms. Diplomats are placed in initiative order. Each room has a player-count requirement (3/4, 5/6, or 7/8 players needed to unlock), an initiative slot, an action, and an income value. Ports also provide Blueprint purchase slots and Contract/Mission slots.

The Round

ORDER OF PLAY

Each round follows three phases:

1. DIPLOMATIC PHASE

In initiative order, players place diplomat meeples in space port rooms. Each room has limited slots — early placement secures the best positions.

2. ACTION PHASE

Players activate their crew by moving rookie and legend meeples to ship rooms. Ships with activated crew can then:

- ♦ Move through systems (Pilot)
- ♦ Engage in combat (Tactical)
- ♦ Carry cargo and passengers (Transport)
- ♦ Repair damage (Repair)
- ♦ Install new outfits (Upgrade)

3. EVENT PHASE

- ♦ Resolve conflicts (ships in same system from hostile factions)
- ♦ Move asteroids (dynamic map element)
- ♦ Check for destroyed ships/rooms
- ♦ Refresh — return meeples to ready positions

SHIP COMBAT

Combat uses a D10 inaccuracy system. When ships from hostile factions occupy the same system:

- ♦ Attacker rolls D10 — higher rolls indicate inaccuracy (misses)
- ♦ Damage is applied to shields first, then hull
- ♦ Ships with destroyed hull are removed from play
- ♦ Crew on destroyed ships are lost unless escape pods are equipped

IN DEVELOPMENT

Full combat timing and resolution details are being finalised. Some edge cases around multi-faction conflicts and simultaneous engagement are noted as unresolved in the current design.

SCORING

CONTRACTS

- ♦ Public Contracts — visible to all players. Completing one earns VP and may trigger new contracts.
- ♦ Private Missions — secret objectives unique to each player. Some factions have “questionable” morality — certain factions can/cannot score certain contract types.

VICTORY

The endgame is triggered when either:

- ♦ $5 \times \text{PlayerCount}$ public contracts have been discarded, OR
- ♦ All space ports have been destroyed

A penultimate round is announced. After that point, contracts are worth double VP. The player with the most VP wins. Tiebreaker: initiative token holder, then most credits.

WORMHOLE NETWORK

Four types of wormholes connect distant systems:

TYPE	COLOUR	RANGE COST
C	Cyan	Low
M	Magenta	Medium
Y	Yellow	High
K	Black	Very High

Wormholes allow instantaneous travel between connected systems at the cost of range/energy. The wormhole network is semi-random — some connections are fixed by faction regions, others are placed during setup.

ASTEROIDS

112 asteroid tokens move across the map each event phase. Asteroids:

- ♦ Block movement through their system
- ♦ Can be mined for Discovery cards (precious minerals, rare tech)
- ♦ May destroy ships that fail to evade (Pilot check)

Asteroid movement patterns are determined by event cards, creating an ever-shifting map.

Ship Modifications

OUTFITS

Ships can be upgraded with outfits from Blueprint cards across 5 technology trees:

- ♦ Human — balanced weapons and shields
- ♦ Core — advanced energy systems
- ♦ Coalition — defensive specialisation
- ♦ Remnant — ancient recovered technology
- ♦ Wanderer — biological / organic systems

Outfits are installed via the Storage Bay room (Upgrade action). Each ship has limited outfit capacity based on its class and cargo space. Each outfit has a mass value that counts against the ship's Outfit Capacity.

Advanced Rules

DIPLOMATIC VOTING

Players can negotiate treaties via treaty cards. Voting occurs during certain event triggers and follows the initiative order. Treaties can establish:

- ♦ Non-aggression pacts
- ♦ Trade routes (reduced commodity exchange costs)
- ♦ Technology sharing (access to another faction's tech tree)
- ♦ Alliance (shared victory conditions for specific contracts)
